

Going Dad™s Top Ten Pinterest Picks (1): That™s Punny

Description

Pinterest is addicting! I try to not click on a picture, but it looks so interesting and/or funny! Eventually, I give in and click. Two hours later and I™m sitting in the same spot wondering what in the world just happened.

Pinterest happened. It™s addicting, it™s uncontrollable, and I like it! Because of Pinterest, I now have a plethora of things to do with Avery for now and when she™s older. Educational, fun, and active; yep, they all fit what I look for.

Since there are too many “Pins” to share in one post, I am going to start a series of my top ten Pinterest Picks across several topics of interest. Today will be all about puns because they make me smile and well, what other reason do you need?

I have a few more Pinterest picks on activities to do with your kids.

why wouldn't you
want me in your garden?

i'm a fungi

i wouldn't take up
mush room

in fact, i'd be no truffle at all
