

Favorite Photos of our Baby in July

Description

Aaaaannnddd there goes another month! Goodbye, July!

The end of July marks my momâ€™s \(G-Maâ€™s\) birthday, and the anniversary of when Going Mom and I first met. We think it was right before G-Maâ€™s birthday, but canâ€™t remember the exact day.

11 years have passed since we first met, and weâ€™ve been together ever since. Like most couples in love, there have been ups and downs, but obviously wayyyyy more ups than downs! I love my wife, and Iâ€™m happy to share this life with her and Avery.

August 17th will mark our wedding anniversary, and weâ€™re celebrating by staying two nights in a hotel while G-Ma holds down the fort/Avery. Iâ€™d be lying if I said we werenâ€™t counting down until this day; we could use the time!!

On the topic of time, I canâ€™t believe July has already passed, but Iâ€™m excited to see what Avery will surprise us with next. Here are some of my favorite pictures from this past month; hope you enjoy!

Did I post enough? I had to stop myself from adding more, but hopefully you like what I have. Weâ€™re looking forward to another exciting month ahead!

How was your July?
