

Vote for Our Baby in the Metroplex Baby & Kids Photo Contest

Description

Hey there! Hope you're having a great Monday! Are you off for MLK Day? Going Mom is and we're keeping it low key just staying at home with lots of coffee!

I just wanted to make a quick post asking for your help. We've had great help from other friends, family, and even other bloggers (also considered friends!). Thank you, Tony! Check out his awesome dad blog, Papa Tont, for a vast source of knowledge on fitness and nutrition as well as being a great dad!

A local parenting site/magazine, Metroplex Baby & Kids, holds a monthly photo contest for the "Cutest Kid" and Avery is a finalist this month! I'm posting this pretty late since the voting ends tomorrow, January 20th, but hopefully you can vote in time to keep her in the lead.

Please go to their Facebook page at this link (or click the picture below) and vote for Avery. Let me know if you did in the comments and I'll send you virtual hugs and high fives!

Look into Avery's eyes... Please vote for me is what they're saying. Hear it?

Thank you in advance and hope your week is off to a great start! By the way, it's almost 70 degrees here in Texas. Beautiful!
