

Babywearing at the Expo: #MySundayPhoto â€“ 03.22.15

Description

We went to the DFW Family Expo on Saturday to join our Dallas Dads Group and Britax for a great time. Kelley put her Boba Babywearing skills to the test while there, but it wasn't long until Avery was out and running around everywhere!

Britax put on a very detailed and informative workshop on car seat safety and we all walked away with vital information on how to keep our kids safe in the car. Avery hasn't been around large crowds before, so she was basically crazy the entire time.

Despite the craziness, I always enjoy hanging with our Dallas Dads Group, and when Going Mom and Avery can join, all the better! I'll give the full story on our adventure soon.

Do you enjoy going to expos?

If so, what kind and do you bring the kids?

Date Created
2015/03/21

default watermark