Description

Sometimes, okay, a lot of times, we all need a good, hearty laugh. Really, we should all laugh more throughout the day every day. Smiling and laughing release “feel good” hormones that actually decrease stress, and even forcing a smile has been proven to lower stress levels!

Seriously, try it out when you™re feeling stressed; just stop and force a smile. It actually works! What also works is Pinterest and the infinite posts of memes, quotes, pictures, and more of hilarious content.

Anyway, figured all of us could use a little laughing medicine to start another week off on the right!..errr, emotions. Enjoy these random Pinterest posts of humor to assist in an otherwise systematic week ahead!

The next morning, the dinos had climbed onto the kitchen counter to raid the fruit bowl.
