

Why Avery is the Top Baby Model

Description

Does that come off as boisterous? Well, maybe it isâ€¦..a little, but if youâ€™re a parent, you already know the answer; because your baby is always the top model!

Furthermore, Iâ€™d say us parents think of our offspring as the best for anything! If Iâ€™m wrong, I hope your little one gets self confidence somewhere.

This past weekend, Going Mom and I snapped a few a lot hundreds of photos of Avery and they were the best baby pictures weâ€™ve ever seen! I took a few of her sitting in her Mamas & Papas chair as she gave a softer version of the Blue Steel pose from Zoolander. If you havenâ€™t seen the movie, watch it!

Then Kelley shot a few pics while Avery rolled around on our bed. I swear, she furnished smiles that would melt the hearts of even the scrogiest of scrooges. But thatâ€™s a daily thingâ€¦!

She was even good and tilting her head and giving that â€œI want to playâ€• kind of smile. Maybe not knowingly, but she is the best at everything afterall!

And I mean câ€™mon, what baby knows to just look straight out the window and be still so mommy can take a picture? What? Oh, that many? Well, Iâ€™m pretty positive Avery is a better window looker outer than those other babies.

So maybe Iâ€™m biased, but what parent isnâ€™t? Iâ€™d feel downright ashamed if Iâ€™m like, â€œWow, those people have the cutest baby, I wish our baby was that cute.â€• And I hope Going Mom would slap me across the face if I were to say something like that.

Luckily, I will never say that, so my face can rest assured it wonâ€™t be slappedâ€¦at least not for that reason! By now you get my point, most parents think the world of their own baby just like they should, and by giving them this love, I feel it helps build a healthy self-esteem.

Kelley and I tell Avery how much we love her and how beautiful she is multiple times a day, and I hope you do the same for your little one(s). If you havenâ€™t, go right now, and with a smile on your face!

Iâ€™m lucky enough to have two beautiful ladies under my roof and I need to make sure I tell them both how wonderful they are and how much I love them.

Admittedly, I did try to submit a few of these pictures to an online photo contest of sorts where agents can see them, but never went through with it. Not because I don't have confidence in our beautiful baby, not at all, but because the site was trying to charge just to submit photos!

I get they are "helping" Avery be seen by agents and whatnot, but I'm not trying to get her in the modeling business, I just wanted to show my beautiful baby to the world and maybe enter her in a little contest. So, I cancelled the submission once I saw the signs to enter credit card info.

I asked Avery how she would like to have an early career in the modeling industry, but I don't think she was too interested!

Yeah, we'll stick with learning how to crawl, walk, eat, sleep better, and playtime at this age, nothing more.

Have you ever considered entering your child in a photo contest?

Or have you entered your child before? Any awards?

Do you feel like your baby is the best at everything and everyone else's is subpar or at least just not as fantastic as yours?
