

A Conversation With My Baby

Description

This is a post from 2 years ago when Avery was still a baby. The conversation may or may not of actually happened. ðŸ™,

Me: Hey, Avery!

Avery: Yes?

Me: Want to know something pretty cool?

Avery: Iâ€™m listeningâ€¦.

Me: Well, for one thing, youâ€™re an outrageously cute baby and I love you!

Avery: Ahh, get out, youâ€™re just saying that so Iâ€™ll finish that bottle without putting up a fight.

Me: Nope, itâ€™s true, youâ€™re a cutie. But, if you wouldnâ€™t mind helping daddy out, it would be much appreciated if you just took the bottle without jerking your head every 30 seconds; please? Anyway, did you know weâ€™re going somewhere tomorrow?

Avery: Itâ€™s not the doctorâ€™s office, is it?

Me: Ha ha, nope, that will be later this month though.

Avery: Whaaaaaaa! I donâ€™t wanna go!

Me: Calm down dear, you have a nice doctor and weâ€™ll be there for you the whole time, I promise.

Avery: Okay, only if you™re there the whole time. And no funny stuff! Or else I won™t cooperate for your next baby workout video, which is pretty silly if you ask me.

Me: Thanks for understanding, and I do appreciate your cooperation at all times. So, tomorrow we are going to G-ma™s house. Remember, she watched you last weekend when mommy and daddy went to the Imagine Dragons concert. The last time you were there you were only 5 weeks old, and now you™re 15 weeks! You™re growing so fast and just keep getting cuter, I swear.

Avery: Oh, dad, you™re crazy! I can™t wait to see G-ma again, we had a great time together last weekend! Plus, she doesn™t swaddle me so tight where I can™t move my hands to my mouth to suck them.

Me: Well, I™m glad you™re excited and I™m sure we™ll have a great time. Just remember, we can™t bring your crib, so you™ll have to sleep in your bassinet for the first time. Will you promise to be good while we visit?

Avery: Iâ€™m sorry, what? I wasnâ€™t paying attention.

Me: I said weâ€™re going to G-maâ€™s and I asked if you promise to be a good baby while weâ€™re there. And always, for that matterâ€¦!

Avery: Ha ha, I know, I heard you the first time! Yes, Iâ€™ll be good, but I canâ€™t make any promises about the bassinet.

Me: Okay, thatâ€™s good enough, Iâ€™ll just depend on my super swaddle powers to keep you content and sleeping well. I guess itâ€™s time to work on this bottle now. How about giving your dad a break and just finishing it like a growing baby should? If you do, we can play airplane and make clicky noises with our tongue.

Avery: Okay, itâ€™s a deal daddy!

Me: Thanks, dear, mommy and daddy love you!

Avery: Awwww, and I love the both of you.

Does anyone else ever make up conversations with their babies? I feel like I might be going crazy, but then again, maybe I already wasâ€¦

Happy Friday, Everyone!

Date Created

2016/02/26

default watermark