

Teething Baby Pics and Five Foodie Fun Facts for Friday #3

Description

Another week is wrapping up and Avery rockin'™ a set of 4 front teeth; two up top and two on the bottom. They aren't™ fully in yet, but at least they've™ pushed through the gums. That part hurts us all!

Going Mom and I agree that we could all use a break and let these 4 be all for a little while. Wanna make any bets on how long until the next one(s) make an appearance?

I won't™ be smiling like this when they do!!

Besides her teething coming in more each day, not much has happened this week otherwise. The Texas heat has reared its ugly head and has me soaked after just 30 minutes of working out in the garage. Luckily, we have a fan that keeps this beautiful girl happy and healthy while getting her jump on!

Since teething has been the theme around our house lately, Iâ€™ll probably talk about it a lot and post all kinds of pictures. Youâ€™re welcome.

Here are a few of my favorites so far!..

I know, this one doesnâ€™t show teeth, but I canâ€™t get over her beautiful eyes. Maybe Iâ€™m a bit extremely biased, but look at those beauties and her hypnotic stare!

Someone has a toof and thatâ€™s the troof!

Now to my third installment of Foodie Fun Facts. Iâ€™m really enjoying these since I learn along with you!

1. Thirty to 40 gallons of sugar maple sap must be boiled down to make just one gallon of maple syrup.
2. Onions contain a mild antibiotic that fights infections, soothes burns, tames bee stings and relieves the itch of athletes foot.
3. In one day a honey bee can fly 12 miles and pollinate up to 10,000 flowers.
4. More than 96 billion pounds of edible "surplus" food is thrown away in the U.S. Each year. It is estimated that almost 27% of our food supply is wasted.
5. Honey bees must tap two million flowers to make one pound of honey. Each worker honey bee makes 1/12th teaspoon of honey in its lifetime.

Those bees are amazing little creatures, huh?

Hope your Friday goes smooth and you have an awesome weekend!

Parents, what were the next teeth to come in after the common front teeth?

Any plans for the weekend?
