

NuttZo Breakfast Talk: Avery & Daddy Ep. 5

Description

This episode of the Avery & Daddy Video Blog has been brought to you by NuttZo. They did not know I made the video and never asked me to, so therefore I was not compensated in any way. That said, I am a NuttZo Ambassador and love everything that goes in the tasty nut and seed butter as well as what doesn't.

I just felt like going over the parts of the face that Avery is currently pointing out. As you'll see in the video, she "œnose" (#DadPun) not only her own face, but other faces too. She'll look clear across the room to point out my pointy nose. She's so sweet.

Since it happened to be around breakfast time, and she must eat or, well, it happens, I figured we'd share her favorite combo of NuttZo with cinnamon and banana.. I guess we all get hangry, and when there's NuttZo involved, there's no waiting.

As always, hope you enjoyed our Vlog and Avery's mad facial recognition skills, not to mention her ability to make Nuttzo and banana disappear.

Have a wonderful Friday and even better weekend!

What facial features did your kids start noticing first?

Do you love peanut butter (NuttZo is better) and banana?

Ever have a peanut butter, banana, and honey sandwich? Bliss!
