

Is the Teddy Bear Shrinking?

Description

Hi guys! Hope you're having a great Sunday!

I'll be enjoying today with two of my favorite ladies, but just wanted to share a quick post.

Avery turned 4 months yesterday and she was a great baby all day. She even let us watch the final episodes of Breaking Bad! Kelley and I had to switch off keeping her entertained, but she was better than expected. Of course, when you're getting pushed around in the swing chair, why wouldn't you be good?

Had to make sure Breaking Bad was paused for the pic!

Before finishing the series, we also went of a long walk (catching the start of a thunderstorm!) and took 4 month photos of Avery.

Each month, we've been taking pictures of Avery beside her teddy bear on the nursery chair. I'm heading off to spend time with my girls now, but want to share Avery's monthly pictures thus far.

Our little girl is growing so fast! I guess that is what babies do though, huh?

Month 1

I hope I donâ€™t lose my hairâ€¦!

Month 2

I lost my hairâ€¦!

Month 3

Iâ€™m sensing a pattern around this time each monthâ€¦!

Month 4

Finally they get it, I give smiles when Iâ€™m naked!

Are you a Breaking Bad fan?

Ever watch something not child friendly with your baby?
