

Four Words Per Picture

Description

Another blog I follow will do a photo dump style post where she only says four words per picture. I sometimes tend to enjoy just looking at the pictures and not trying to read a long story. It's a nice break on the brain for both the reader and the writer.

Since my wife happens to be away all week for work, I thought this might be a good post for her to see to help get her Avery "fix" while away. Of course I send her pictures daily and we Skype at night, but you can never have enough, right? I know I'm missing her dearly, and can't wait to pick her up from the airport at the end of the week!

Enjoy the pics, and if you like this format, please let me know, maybe I'll do it again.

A kiss for daddy.

It's fun, they said.

Just read the bag.

Cute little crumb face.

Leave me alone, dad!

Clean up my mess?

Getting right on thatâ€¦!
