

10 Throwback Thursday Posts from March 2014

Description

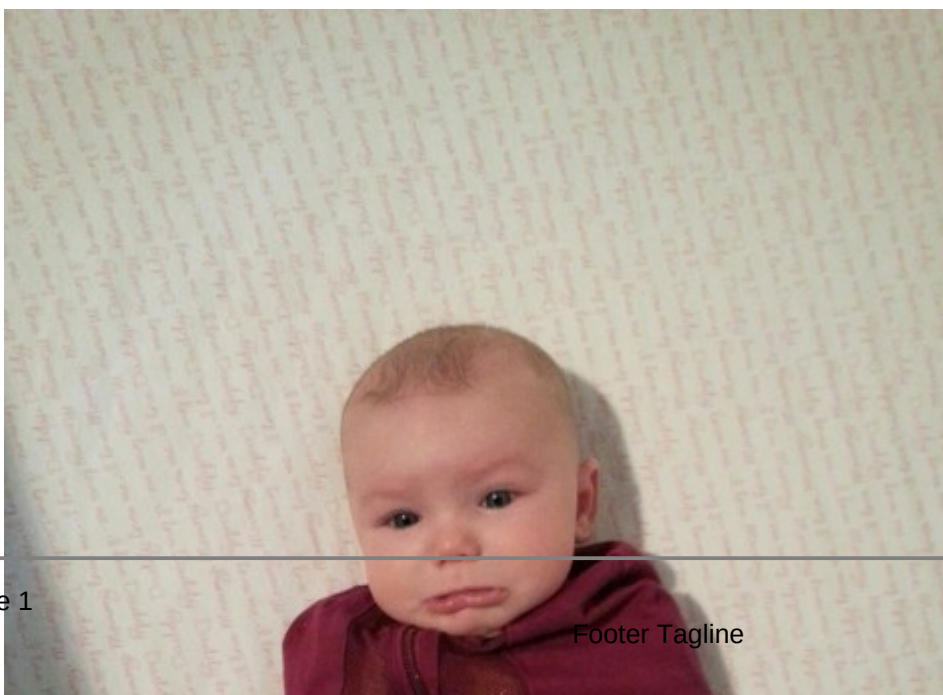

Looking back at just a year ago is crazy! Our little girl was, well, littler, and I was still adjusting to the stay-at-home life. Now that it's almost the end of March, I thought I'd dig through the archives and share 10 of my favorite posts from March of last year for a little Throwback Thursday action. Enjoy!

1. Ninja Turtle Pizzas At G-Ma's – This was our second time bringing Avery to stay the night at G-Ma's (or anywhere), and she let us all know her distaste for not sleeping in her crib.

2. Our Nightly Routine and I'm Inventing a Water Swaddle – Always fun to look back at what our routine was like a year ago. She was crazy then and beyond crazy now! This also features me wearing Avery in the Baby Bjorn front facing; what I now know better NOT to do for many development reasons.

I want a Water Woombie! Whaaaa!

3. How to Tell Your Baby They Are Getting Shots â€” I made more â€œconversationsâ€• with Avery back then and need to work on more. Itâ€™s always fun writing these posts.

4. A Talk With My 4 Month Old About Teething â€” See? I did this a lot compared to now. Love reading them over and over, and man how sheâ€™s changed!

5. A Walking Revelation, Darth Vader Sweat, and Avery in a Zippy â€” This was the month where I received our first Onya Baby baby carrier and havenâ€™t looked back since.

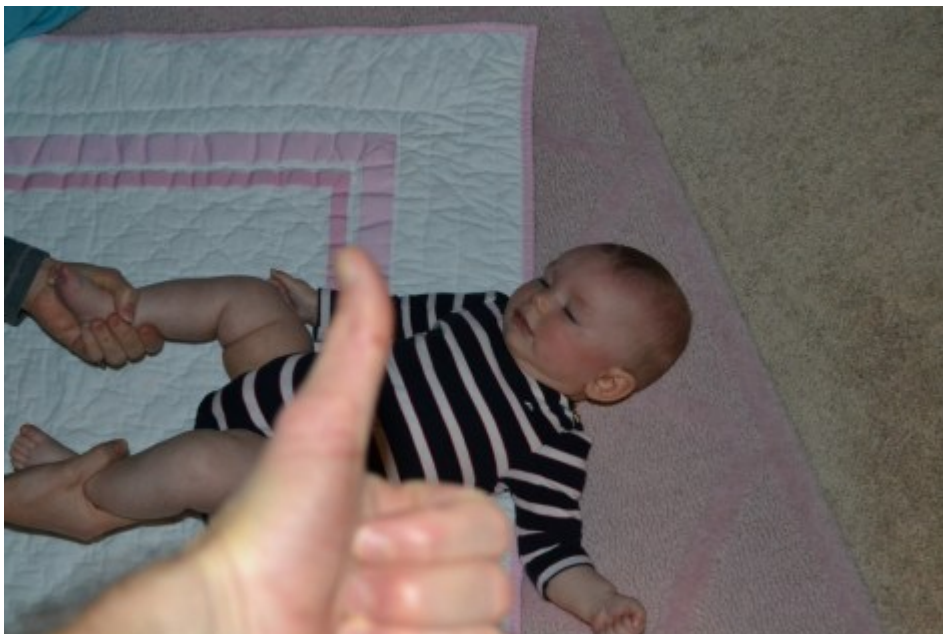

The force of sweat is strong with this one â€“ Darth Vader

6. Hanging With My Daughter in the Dad Cave â€“ Before baby gates and toys were needed, she just laid there. But I made the most of it!

7. Weekend Recap: Breaking Bad, She Rolled Over, 4 Month Shots Delayed, and Teething â€“ The title says it all.

Roll over success!

8. Sleeping on the Nursery Floor and Onya Outback Progress â€“ We had our fair share of sleeping on the nursery floor, hereâ€™s one account.

Boppy™s are good for more than just breast feeding!

9. A Hissing Goose and An Ass Woke My Baby â€“ Another self-explanatory title and picture. We still have the goose and ass hanging around too!

HI!!

10. Explaining Exercise to a Baby â€“ Seriously, Iâ€™m going to create a post to gather all of my conversations with Avery. This one should be no surprise to those that know me.

I started writing this thinking Iâ€™d only share 5, but there were too many I wanted to share in March. Maybe Iâ€™ll do 5 for April.

What do you think, do you like seeing a recap of posts from a year ago?

Do you ever have “conversations” with your baby before they can actually speak?
