

Typing Games Designed to Help Children Learn Typing and Have Fun

Description

The rate at which the world is adapting to digital technology is changing fast and in the near future perhaps all learning materials will become digital. Any parent who cares about helping a child to master typing skills will not hesitate to introduce a child to typing games. It should be easy for you to be able to find an online resource for different typing games for your kid. There are lots of games and programs out there in the internet these days that are specifically designed to help children learn how to type.

Schools have also started offering basic typing skills to children to help them learn the skill of typing. Most kids typing games are designed in a way that the kid's typing skills is graded. The typing games help children to acquaint themselves with touch typing by use of ordinary typing methods. The typing methods usually involve lessons centered on fingers, keys, and also placement of the hands on the keyboard.

Some typing games designed for kids

Here is a list of some of kids typing games you can find online that will help improve your child's typing skills:

1. Qwerty Warriors World

It is a very interesting typing game for children that will help keep your child engrossed on the screen for long while learning new typing skills. This game is programmed in such a way that the player is supposed to destroy virtual enemies approaching. To achieve this, the player need to type letters on the keyboard. To be able to destroy the approaching virtual enemy, the player has to correctly spell a word and then press enter. This is something that not only helps to sharpen the child's typing skill but also helps with spelling recognition.

The other benefits that this game offers to the child are increasing the child's typing speed, efficiency and accuracy.

2. Bitter Boss

Another interesting kids typing game that will not only help to train your child new typing skills but learn how to manage different tasks at one go! The child has to play by doing the typing fast to stop the green color from occupying an empty bar. If the green color fills up the empty bar before you finish typing the sentence provided you lose points. It is a game that helps the player increase typing speed and spelling accuracy.

3. Ninja Hunter

In this typing game designed for children, there is a good ninja who is standing guard on top of a temple to protect it from bad ninja invasion. Names of the bad ninjas will be displayed for the player to type. By typing the names of the approaching bad ninjas they are vanquished before getting into the temple. The aim is to vanquish as many bad ninjas as possible by typing their names to safeguard the temple. The more bad ninjas the player vanquishes the more points the player earns.

It is a good typing game for your kid that will not only train the child to type fast but is also fun and enjoyable.

Date Created
2018/03/08

default watermark