

Daddy's Girl: #MySundayPhoto 05.10.15

Description

Sorry for the bad timing of my Daddy's Girl post when it's really Mother's Day. If it's any consolation, I give full credit to my beautiful wife for this picture.

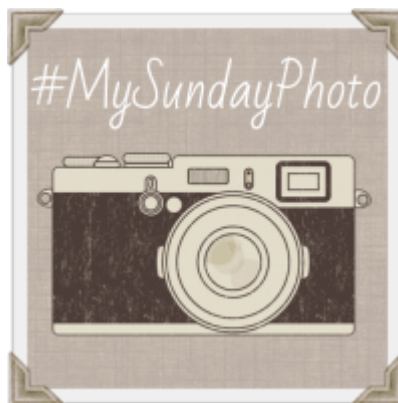

Avery was just having a blast rolling all over our bed, and Going Mom was there to capture some good shots of the wild-child in action.

Thank you, Kelley, for the picture and for being such a wonderful wife and Mother!

Can you remember bouncing on the bed?

Is bed jumping against the rules in your house or fully supported?
