Holiday Footwear Essentials: What To Pack When Youâ€™re Heading On Vacay

Description

Weâ€™ve all been there. Staring at an empty suitcase and a huge pile of clothes and shoes, thinking â€˜how is all of that going to fit in there?â€™. Slimming down your wardrobe and picking the right items for your holiday can sometimes make or break your time away, especially when it comes to footwear.

Donâ€™t worry though, as youâ€™re not alone. Plenty of us come up against this conundrum, and weâ€™re here to help you pack smart with no stress and maximum style!

Holiday Footwear 101

Depending on the type of holiday youâ€™ve booked youâ€™ll need to have a good think about what you need to pack. For example, if youâ€™re heading on a city break, then youâ€™ll want to go for something comfortable and stylish, like a pair of trainers or loafers. For beach holidays, you canâ€™t beat the classic sandal or flip-flop combo, either opt for something minimalistic and chic or if itâ€™s a super sunny destination, then why not go full-on and get a pair of fun patterned sandals?

For longer holidays, youâ€™ll need to think about versatility for your footwear options. Think about the type of activities youâ€™re likely to be doing and what kind of climate youâ€™ll be in. Boots are always practical, especially if itâ€™s cooler or rainy, but if you donâ€™t fancy lugging them around, then a pair of loafers and sandals are the perfect combo.

No holiday wardrobe is complete without some evening-ready shoes, whether thatâ€™s heeled sandals or a classic stiletto, youâ€™ll be sure to find something for every occasion

The main takeaway here? Comfort over style is key! No one wants to be in pain when theyâ€™re away, so make sure you try your shoes on properly and look for styles with cushioned inner soles. That way you can have the best of both worlds â€“ comfort and style.

At the end of the day, thereâ€™s no right or wrong when it comes to choosing your holiday footwear. So make sure to pick something that goes with the rest of your wardrobe, is versatile for whatever activities you have planned and, most importantly, comfortable enough to last the whole trip!

5 Holiday Footwear Essentials To Pack In Your Suitcase

Okay, so weâ€™ve given you a broad idea of the types of shoes youâ€™ll need for your holiday. Now letâ€™s take a look at what styles you should definitely include in your suitcase.

1. Trainers â€“ A great all-rounder, trainers are perfect for days when you want to be comfortable but still look good. They come in so many different styles and colours that you can easily find something to go with any outfit. Plus, if you want a cool hybrid, then sneaker slippers are well worth checking out as they combine the best of both worlds when it comes to comfort and style!

2. Sandals â€“ Whether you opt for the classic flip-flop or a dressier, heeled version thereâ€™s no denying that sandals are an essential piece of holiday footwear. Wear them around the pool, on the beach or when mooching around the local town but be aware theyâ€™re best for short walks and not hikes or long trips.

3. Loafers â€“ Classic and chic, theyâ€™re also surprisingly comfortable. A good pair of loafers can take you from day to night with ease and look great with jeans, shorts or a dress. Loafers come in plenty of styles, colours and materials to choose from, although you canâ€™t go wrong with a classic style and colour.

4. Ankle Boots â€“ If youâ€™re heading somewhere cooler, then a good pair of ankle boots are a must. Not only do they look great with jeans, dresses and skirts, but they also provide plenty of support for your feet and ankles, which is especially important if you plan on doing any walking or hiking. Adding after-market inner soles can also help to make them even more comfortable.

5. Slippers â€“ This may come as a surprise, but whether youâ€™re at home or on holiday, thereâ€™s nothing quite like sliding into a pair of comfy slippers when itâ€™s time for bed. Not only are they great for keeping your feet warm and cozy, but they can also help to prevent you from slipping on wet or slippery surfaces, which is always a bonus!

So, there you have it â€“ five essential pieces of footwear that belong in every suitcase! If youâ€™ve been struggling to decide what shoes to pack for your holiday then hopefully, this has given you some ideas and helped you narrow down your choices. Now all thatâ€™s left to do is get packing!
