

Polo Sport by Ralph Lauren: My Top 5 Fitness Apparel Picks

Description

This post is sponsored by Vocalpoint and Dick's™ Sporting Goods. All opinions are my own.

When it comes to shopping for all things sports and fitness related, it's a good idea to choose a sporting goods store that is truly passionate about what they sell. At DICK'S Sporting Goods®, you'll find just that, along with excellent service and great prices on name brand equipment, apparel, and accessories. From gym-sized exercise equipment to fishing lures, DICK'S has the quality products you need and want. So, it should come as no surprise that they now carry Polo Sport® by Ralph Lauren, a new collection of men's activewear.

Found in select DICK'S Sporting Goods locations, I ventured to the nearby DICK'S at The Parks in Arlington, TX to treat myself to a few of the new Polo Sport items. I thought it might be hard to navigate my way to find where Polo Sport was located within the large sporting goods retailer, but it was hard to miss the bold sign proclaiming its presence.

I'm just glad I didn't have to stop and ask this guy. I think he was in the middle of auditioning for Iron Mannequin.

Hey, I claim to love puns, but never said I'm good at them!

The layout was filled with activewear designed for top notch looks and performance in the cold or heat. The cold weather gear was tempting, but I find myself indoors or in a heated garage since Avery is usually with me when working out, so I gravitated towards the shorts and short sleeved shirts.

I found plenty of items I wanted to take home, but lets face it, spending a lot on myself right before Christmas would just be wrong. Obviously, I can wait to return that scratchy wool sweater from Aunt Sally and then go back to buy more! ðŸ˜‰

With the approaching holiday in mind, I narrowed my selection to 5 favorite fitness apparel items to bring home and start “playing” with right away. Having had the chance to wear and workout in my chosen items, I figured I’d share my top 5 with you.

1. Polo Sport Men’s Performance Jersey T-Shirt “ This is my new favorite shirt. I love the deep blue color and the comfortable fit allows me to move as it keeps me cool for the indoor workouts I’ve been doing lately. Not covering our floors in sweat is vital to stay in good standing with the wife too!
2. Polo Sport Men’s Performance Jersey Long Sleeve Shirt “ Same as the T-Shirt but with long sleeves, I like having this for when I venture outside and it’s actually cold here in North Texas. Right now it’s been in the 70’s so I still wear my T-Shirt when going out for a run/walk/playground time.

3. Polo Sport Men's Tech Fleece Hoodie – Even as a lover of heat, there's just something I enjoy about a good hoodie, and Polo Sport got it right with this one. When I can wear winter clothes that won't interfere with my chosen workout for the day, well, that's just awesome. Somehow, this comfy hoodie manages to keep me feeling warm and doesn't get in the way of doing back squats and kettlebell swings in a cold garage when the heater stops working.

4. Polo Sport Men's Tech Fleece Hoodie – I usually will try on this hat, I'm willing to do intense workouts, but I like just take smiling selfies of myself with it on.

5. Polo Sport Men's Jersey Active 10" Shorts " Helllloooo, comfort! I'm extremely peculiar about having good shorts, and when I find a pair I like, I'll wash them every day just so I can keep wearing them. Just a pull of the drawstring gives me a custom fit and their moisture-wicking fabric keeps me dry and stench free. Not to mention the 10" inseam protects from any "exposure issues" when working out. All good things for something who likes to use the rower.

Bonus points for being able to right to playtime after an intense workout and not smelling or dripping sweat like a wet dog. Avery appreciates it.

Any or all of these would make a great gift someone you know or for yourself. Hey, only you really know what you want, right? With color options ranging from light colors like Andover Heather or Pure White, dark colors like Pacific Blue (my favorite!), and vibrant colors like Shocking Orange, thereâ€™s plenty of options to suit any taste.

Looking to buy some nice activewear for the man in your life? Polo Sport has what you need to keep him looking good and maybe even motivated to stay in shape. Win-win!

Motivation comes in many forms, and what you wear definitely plays a big role in your desire to get up and MOVE! Polo Sport has just what any fitness-minded guy would love, so head over to DICKâ€™s Sporting Goods or visit online by clicking here.
