

Straight Hair in AM, Curly in the PM: #MySundayPhoto “ 07.12.15

Description

Does your kid have hair with a mind of its own? My wife and I have no clue what to expect from day to day in regards to Avery’s hair. Well, in regards to a lot of things relating to a crazy toddler, but lets focus on the hair here. Whoa, a little tongue twister!

Lately, the trend is to start the day with straight hair and usually happy!

But after nap time (late afternoon), her hair transforms into crazy curls.

Donâ€™t mind the green smoothie face, just focus on that hair coming out to each side. Maybe itâ€™s a way of letting parents know to expect craziness for the rest of the day. If so, itâ€™s pretty accurate..

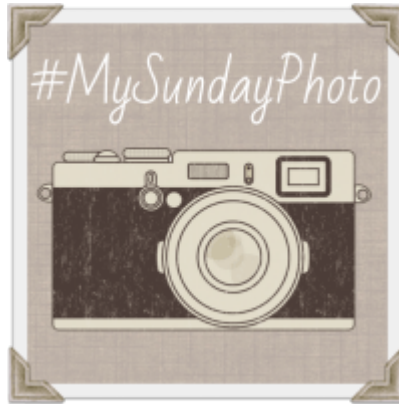

This “episode” was because we wouldnâ€™t hold her while she drank her green and very stain-causing smoothie. Donâ€™t worry, she calmed down and drank it just fine with just a single tear left for evidence.

Does your kid have hair that changes throughout the day?

What about your hair?

Did you hear about the hare that lived here but had to move over there?
