

The Outer Banks: Pics From My Phone

Description

We are having a blast at The Outer Banks with the family! Avery's first ocean experience has been a success. We're still here living it up, but just wanted to share some pics of the trip so far.

More details of the vacation will come later, but for now, enjoy!

Our sleeping arrangements, I'm on the top bunk.

The obligatory Outer Banks beach family selfie.

My brother Preston / Uncle P, said he applied sunscreen. I think he missed a few spots.

Avery soaking up the ocean air.

Digging to China with G-Ma. We gave up before seeing pandas, but it was a good hole for her first time in the sand.

This is taking a long time, so I'm done for now. We're heading back to the beach and possibly kayaking with Avery (another first), so hopefully I'll have more great pics of our Outer Banks vacation to come.
