

Reading To Herself: #MySundayPhoto â€“ 05.24.15

Description

Weâ€™ve had books around her since she was born and we have always been reading to her, but lately sheâ€™s doing it herself. No actual words usually come out, but sheâ€™s jibber-jabbering away and flipping pages as if they were.

This photo was hard to capture because right when the camera comes out, sheâ€™ll stop and find something else less picturesque to do.

The quality isnâ€™t the greatest since I took it as fast as possible, but itâ€™s precious nonetheless.

I know this is MySundayPhoto, not Photos, but I was able to snap this shot on my phone after she brought me a book to read and sat in my lap which I feel compelled to share.

Sheâ€™s starting to actually sit through an entire book as we read too, yay!

Do you kids bring several books for you to read?

Whatâ€™s your current favorite book?
