

How to Discipline a Toddler

Description

Did I say how to discipline a toddler? I'm sorry, I meant how do you discipline a toddler. Oops!

When they don't talk (not sure if that's a good or bad thing), communicating what to do and not do is difficult. Not having the experience of a talking kid yet, I can't speak to how hard that is. I'm guessing it's worse since they probably talk back, huh?

Anyway, the biggest issue is with not listening when we say "No" or "Don't do that." What? Familiar words in your home too?

Especially when it comes to changing her diaper or throwing food, Avery will not listen! But then she gives you this face.

...and how do stay upset? I'll answer this rhetorical question for you, you don't!

And then the icing on the cake is when they give you a leg hug!

Weâ€™re fighting an uphill battle hereâ€¦.

So tell me, how do you discipline or at least begin to discipline your toddler?
