

5 Things to do in Florida

Description

Florida is home to countless amazing cities. There's Miami, which is the place to go if you want to experience nightlife. Then, there's Orlando, where you can spend days exploring Disney World. There's also Key West, which is an island in the Florida Keys that's known for its snorkeling and scuba diving, and let's not forget Fort Lauderdale, Boca Raton, Clearwater Beach—the list goes on. You can even spend a month exploring Florida and still not see it all. So, if a trip to Florida has been on your bucket list, you might not even know where to start. While there are so many incredible things to do in the Sunshine State, you will have to narrow your list down. If you need some help, take a look at our list of 5 things to do in Florida.

1. Go to Disney World

A trip to Florida isn't complete unless you go to Disney World. Disney World is not only a great activity if you're traveling with kids, but it's also fun for adults. Try the delicious food all over the park, ride the safari at Animal Kingdom, and get drinks around the world at Epcot. If you have kids, you can even take them to get their very own Disney makeover. Going to Disney doesn't have to be expensive either. You can find cheap flights to Orlando, FL and be at Disney World in under 30 minutes from the airport.

2. Bask on Clearwater Beach

If you're looking for a more relaxing vacation where you can spend your days laying out under the sun, Clearwater Beach is the place for you. Clearwater beach has some of the clearest water (no pun intended) you'll ever see. Clearwater is famous for its long stretch of paper white sand and calm waters. You can also go jet-skiing, parasailing, or paddleboarding. It's really the perfect place to go with friends or family.

3. Explore Miami

Miami is truly a unique city. With incredible nightlife and even better food, such as the best bbq miami offers, it's definitely a city you can't get bored in. However, if nightlife isn't your cup of tea, there are plenty of other things to do in the city. For art enthusiasts, the Wynwood Walls is an outdoor museum showcasing impressive street art from renowned artists around the world. Miami has gorgeous beaches, such as South Beach, and incredible hotels with pools like you've never seen. You can even do a Miami boat tour and see the city's landscape in a unique way.

4. Snorkel in Key West

If you're a fan of water sports, Key West is the place to go. Key West is an island city that is part of the Florida Keys. It is the southernmost point of Florida and is only 90 miles from Cuba. Key West has beautiful coral reefs which make for great snorkeling and scuba diving. Snorkeling in the Key West is an incredible experience, so if you find yourself here, be sure to add that to your list of things to do.

5. Relax in Naples

Naples is located on Florida's Paradise Coast and is known for its high-end shops and gourmet restaurants. If you're looking for some rest and relaxation, check out Naples. Plus, beyond just shopping and eating, there is a lot more to do in this Florida city. You can walk along the Naples Pier, stop by the Naples Zoo, or check out the Baker Museum. You can also spend your days relaxing on the beach and your nights out exploring the town.

This list doesn't even begin to encompass all the amazing cities there are in Florida, but it's a good start. Regardless of what type of vacation you're planning, there's a place for you in Florida. If you want to relax and shop, check out Naples. If you want to swim and scuba dive, Key West is for you. Thereâ€™s something for everyone when you travel to Florida, so what are you waiting for?
