

A Shy Intro: Avery & Daddy Vlog Episode 1

Description

In an effort to reduce my writing time but still post to my blog, I am trying my hand at vlogging. With the high-quality built-in camera on my laptop, Iâ€™ll record any random thing that involves Avery and myself.

No clue where this will go or if it will last, but hopefully sheâ€™ll do more than stare at herself on the screen. The first episode, our â€œpilotâ€• is nothing to blow your nose at, but at least you get to see a cute kid!

Let me know what you think and if you have any ideas on what to record. Iâ€™m thinking some dancing, flips on the pallet, and working out will be in the near future. I also want to record me reading some of our favorite books to her. Maybe even video product reviews too!

What else can you think of?

Vlog, yay or nay? Should I stick to just writing or you like to watch something?
